• Oklahoma (4-1) picked up its second win at PK80 with a 90-80 win over Oregon (5-2) on Sunday at Veterans Memorial Coliseum in Portland, Ore.

• PK80 is an early-season tournament honoring the 80th birthday of Nike co-founder Phil Knight. The Sooners were one of 16 prestigious Nike schools competing in a field that combined for 23 national titles, 89 Final Four appearances and 391 NCAA Tournament invitations. Oklahoma went 2-1 during the event, taking fifth place in the eight-team “Victory” bracket.

• OU improved to 16-6 during in-season tournament games under Lon Kruger, having won at least two games in all seven previous in-season tournaments under Kruger.

• With the win, the Sooners improved to 4-1 on the season. Oklahoma has begun the year 4-1 or better in all seven seasons under Kruger.

• The Sooners were led by a historic performance from freshman guard Trae Young, who scored 43 points in the win. Young shot 11-of-22 from the field, 4-of-11 from 3-point range and 17-of-18 from the foul line while adding seven assists, four rebounds and two steals.

• Young’s 43 points are the most scored in NCAA Division I this season and are the most by a Sooner since Buddy Hield scored 46 in triple overtime against Kansas on Jan. 4, 2016.

• Oklahoma trailed by as many as eight points in the first half – its largest deficit in a win this season. While OU led for a majority of the night, Oregon took its final lead (62-61) with just under 10 minutes remaining. Young scored 23 of Oklahoma’s final 26 points – all in the final nine minutes – to pull away from the Ducks.

• Young became the 15th Sooner to score 40 points in a game, but just the second to do so as a freshman. Wayman Tisdale is the only Sooner freshman to score more in a game with outings of 51, 46 and 44 points in the 1982-83 season.

• In three games at PK80, Young averaged 34.7 points, 6.7 assists, 4.0 rebounds and 2.3 steals. He shot 30-of-58 (.517) from the field, 11-of-28 (.393) from 3-point range and 33-of-35 (.943) from the foul line. He scored 28 points in the opening round against Arkansas and 33 versus Portland in the second round.

• On the season, Young leads the Big 12 in scoring at 28.2 points per game. Entering Sunday, no other Big 12 player averaged over 20 points. Nationally, Young’s scoring average ranks second only to Femi Olujobi of North Carolina A&T (29.4).

• Young has scored at least 20 points in each of his last four games, and is the first Sooner to do so since Buddy Hield in 2015-16.

• In addition to Young’s big day, the Sooners also saw big games from Christian James and Jamuni McNeace. James continued to score in double figures (has so in all five games this season) with 11 points and seven rebounds. McNeace added 10 points and six rebounds while shooting a perfect 3-for-3 from the field.

• Up next, the Sooners return home to face North Texas on Thursday, Nov. 30. The 7 p.m. CT contest will be broadcast by SoonerSports TV on Fox Sports Oklahoma.
